

Brazil is Hosting The World Sterilization Congress in 2010

Brazil has been chosen to host The World Sterilization Congress next year from among a few other countries that participated in an online poll. This year, the event will be taking place in Greece in October.

The SOBECC will be responsible for organizing the next World Sterilization Congress which shall take place from July 30th to August 1st, 2010. We are proud to announce this unique achievement in the history of our association since it shows we were the ones that had the best proposal among all the other countries that took part in the dispute.

Bringing this important event to Brazil highlights our efforts to consolidate the work developed in the Surgical Center, Anesthetic Recovery and Material Supply Center areas within ethical guidelines and our continual goal to meet international standards and help improving the Brazilian Health Care System.

Start writing your papers right now! The deadline for submitting abstracts is January 15th, 2010.

Thank you for trusting in us to hold this event here.

See you in 2010!

Congratulation to us all.
